What did you accomplish Today? Today, I completed and started up the SQL database, set up the functionalities for the user register, login register, and seller register, and added items to stock and stored them in the database.

Team Member (2): Omed Bahaddin

What did you accomplish Today? Today we discussed what we had done so far for the newly added teammate and the ideas we have for the project. One of the ideas we had was to look into making a search function that tracks the number of searches each item gets in order to push out whatever is getting the most searches at the moment. In addition, we had also distributed some work for this week and my work for this week is to learn Pseudo code as it is key to use to get started with the main project work.

What did you accomplish Today? Today I had a walk thought of everything the team had done so far on the project as well as the ideas they had, and the work they had set me for the week was to do my research on supply chain management and look at the information sent on the group chat as well as learn hash and SQL.
